Stephane Ladjadj was found not to have been involved in the interference. Subsequent to the Enquiry, the Stewards received a complaint from Charles Perkins that following this race Neil Callan had ridden alongside him as they were pulling up and behaved and spoke to him in a manner which was outside, what he considered to be acceptable, even bearing in mind what is sometimes said in the heat of the moment after an incident in a race. Having interviewed the riders, the Stewards reminded Neil Callan that he must ensure that he behaves in a professional and appropriate manner at all times when race riding.
